Dear Mr. Eves:

On February 15, I visited the subject location and found this well was never spudded. Our report of a depth of approximately 100 feet was erroneous.

We hereby revoke our approval to drill this well dated June 26, 1962, as more than 90 days have elapsed since such approval without drilling operations being undertaken.

If you should decide to drill this well at some future date, a new notice to drill and probably a new bond will be required.
